GUARD YOUR INTERESTS.

A Great Fall—No Liver Lost—The Pocket Fall Only Suffers Slight Injury.

How dear to the hat—yet cheap to the buyer—are those beautiful new hats, crests and ribbons now for sale at McCullagh & Galbreath's. These hats will be sold without regard to length or breadth, at from 50 cents to one dollar; at present they are all the "crabs," and it would be wise to select them before they are put on the "upper shelf." "Time is money," and if you lose time in buying these fashionable hat trimmings, you lose a grand opportunity of saving money. Hats! Hats! Hats!!! You can't help but be satisfied in head-gear, if you step into this millinery establishment; for here can be found hats of all shapes, sizes, and quality. A job lot counter of hats is the latest addition. A word to the wise should be sufficient—but it will cost you nothing to call, take a glance, and be convinced.

—"It is said" that the material to be used in decking Milwaukee street bridge, notwithstanding complaints of its worthlessness for such purpose, will, the pile foundation. The north half of the bridge, which is now covered with 2-inch plank, will receive an addition of one inch tarred boards before the paving is laid.

—The editor-in-chief of the Gazette has this day left his old residence in the third ward and taken up his abode on Madison street, in the first ward, and the city editor is credibly informed and fully believes that he has done this without any suggestions from any of his old neighbors, and without their approbation or consent.

—The New Gas Light company is preparing to lay a new gas main on Bluff street, the pipe now being delivered along that street. We understand that it is the intention of the company to lay this pipe to Court street bridge, crossing the river to Pleasant street, thence forming a connection with the main on the west side, so that the company will have two mains crossing the river, thereby guarding against accident that might occur to the mains at either of the bridges.

—On Tuesday afternoon of April 21st, at the residence of Mr. S. F. Sanborn, on North Second street, second ward, was a pleasant gathering of friends and relatives to celebrate the seventieth anniversary of his mother's birthday. Those present from a distance were Mrs. H. K. Newell, of Redwood, Wis.; Mrs. N. A. Narracon, of Evansville; Mrs. C. B. Curtis, of Ft. Atkinson, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown, of Shepore. Among the list of presents was a beautiful platform rocker presented by the children.

—F. W. Coon, of the Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter, published at Edgerton, has just published a little 60-page pamphlet, on tobacco growing. It treats fully upon every step in tobacco culture, commencing with the seed and closing with the crop in the case ready for market. There is no other branch of farming where so much information is required as tobacco culture. This little book is especially recommended to our farmers, because it is practical—every hint and suggestion being of service sometime during the season. We can hardly see how a tobacco farmer, especially a new beginner, can afford to lose an opportunity to secure such valuable assistance as the Guide to Tobacco Culture. For the pamphlet, send 50 cents to F. W. Coon, Edgerton, Wis.

—The semi-annual muster of our military companies took place last evening, at their respective armories. The Bowler City Rifles, Captain J. B. LaGrange, mustered thirty-eight men. The Rifles have ordered a new uniform, which they hope to have in time for decoration day, May 30th. The company is in a flourishing condition, with over six hundred dollars in the treasury. The Janesville Guards, Captain J. B. Doe, mustered thirty-eight men, rank and file, every non-commissioned officer except one, being present. Thirteen privates were absent on leave. The total membership of the Guards is sixty-eight. The company has expended considerable money this winter in repairing and making additions to their uniforms, and preparing for the trip to Mobile and New Orleans. The Janesville companies, when they receive their fatigues uniforms and overcoats from the state, will be on a good "war footing," and will compare favorably with any companies in the west. The Guards will give a fancy drill at the Riverside rink to-morrow evening, the tendered a complimentary benefit to the Guards on that evening. They leave on Thursday evening for Mobile, stopping at Beloit, where they intend to give an exhibition drill at the roller rink while waiting for the train which takes them to Freeport and the south.

ODDELOWSHIP.

The Sixty-sixth Anniversary of the Order in America

Duly Celebrated by the Lodges in Janesville.

A Pleasant Evening at the Rifles' Armory.

April 27th, 1819, dates the introduction of Oddfellowship in America. On that day, in the city of Baltimore, Thomas Wilkey and four of his associates organized Washington Lodge No. 1. Wilkey and his associates were Englishmen, and the American lodge thus organized was modeled after the Manchester unit, of which Wilkey had been a member.

Washington Lodge, No. 1, of Baltimore, flourished, and it was not long before similar lodges were organized in other cities of the United States. Its growth has been marvelous. The Grand Lodge of the United States, which held supreme jurisdiction over the order in America, having spread its influence throughout the globe, is now acknowledged as the supreme head, and several years ago the "United States" was omitted from the name, and that body is now styled the Sovereign Grand Lodge, with subordinate lodges in every civilized country on the globe. Its membership has steadily increased, and now numbers over 500,000 members, while expenditures for charitable purposes amount to millions.

Last evening, this order throughout the United States celebrated the sixty-sixth anniversary of the institution of Washington Lodge No. 1, of Baltimore, and the order in this city, Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, and Janesville City Lodge No. 90, united in a grand entertainment at the Rifles' armory. The hall was thrown open to all Odd Fellows and their families and to invited guests. District Deputy Grand Master S. B. Kenyon acted as master of ceremonies, and announced the following

PROGRAMME.

Overture.....Anderson's Orchestra.

Reading....."Morio Alack" Mrs. J. B. Day.

Address.....W. F. Warren, Esq.

Quartet....."In Silent Mood" Messrs. Wm. Bladon, Clarence L. Clark, W. R. Follenboe and C. N. Vankirk—w/ith Mrs. Clarence L. Clark accompanist.

Recitation....."Waiting in Heaven" Miss Mamie A. Mahon.

Solo....."The Broken Pitcher" Miss Christine Peterson.

Address.....R. F. Dunwiddie, Esq.

Recitation....."Angry Emulation" Mrs. J. B. Day.

Solo....."Swording a Rammer" Messrs. Bladon, Clark, Follenboe and Vankirk.

Recitation....."Mother's Feet" Miss Mamie Mahon.

Solo....."Good Bye" Miss Christine Peterson.

DANCE.

The armory was packed with as fine an audience as ever assembled in that hall, and the entertainment, as a whole, was one of the finest literary and musical ever given in the city. The readings by Mrs. Day and the singing by Miss Christine Peterson drew forth tremendous applause, evidence that they each had the power of voice to captivate an audience. Little Mamie A. Mahon, daughter of Mr. Thomas Mahon, did her part splendidly and was greeted with applause which would have been a credit to a professional. The quartet acquitted themselves in the style, and won their share of applause, while the addresses of Messrs. Warren and Dunwiddie, though brief, related wholly to the order of Oddfellowship, and of course interested the audience.

The dance continued until a late hour, supper being served at Shurtliff's at midnight. The anniversary celebration was a success, and all who took part did themselves much credit, and their efforts were all duly appreciated by the members of the order in attendance.

NEWARK STREET BRIDGE.

A special meeting of the common council was held last evening for the purpose of considering matters pertaining to Milwaukee street bridge. Mayor Winans presided, all the aldermen being present except Ald. Burdham and Shearer.

First the quality and durability of the cedar blocks to be used in paving the bridge, was discussed. Samples of blocks were shown, and the opinion of several of our local lumber dealers heard.

—An agreement that the blocks would last longer than the bridge foundation.

Second—The flooring of the bridge, which is of two inch plank—was discussed. This was thought to be inadequate for the demands, and it was finally ordered that the bridge committee be instructed to lay an additional floor of inch boards on the north half of the bridge, tarring the boards on both sides.

Other matters in connection with the bridge were discussed, and referred back to the committee and the superintendent.

The question of placing 3-inch plank on the south half of the bridge was laid on the table until the next meeting of the council.

The special business being completed the council adjourned.

ATTENTIVE SHAKEN AND SCORCHED.

By the prostrations of chills and fever the wretched sufferer for whom quinine has been prescribed, essays in vain to exterminate the dreadful disease with that painful palliative, which at best only mitigates the violence of the fit, and eventually proves highly injurious to the system. In order to effect a thorough cure, or to render the system impervious to the attacks, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be used daily. This medicine is a searching eradicator of diseases generated by miasma, and a reliable safeguard against them, is a fact so widely recognized in this and other countries that to address evidence in support of it is unnecessary; but were it otherwise essential or desirable to do so, it may well be supposed that from the testimony corroborative of its claims, which has been accumulating during the last twenty-five years and over, sufficient proofs might be gathered to convince the most inveterate skeptic.

HAPPILY MATED.

GRIFITHS-VAN ETNA.

The marriage of Mr. John Griffiths and Miss Lizzie L. Van Etna, daughter of our fellow townsman, Mr. James Van Etna, took place at ten o'clock this morning, at the home of the bride's father on North Jackson street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. F. Conover, D. D., rector of Trinity church. The home was elaborately decorated and Anderson's orchestra furnished music befitting the happy occasion. The canopy of flowers, under which the bride and groom stood during the ceremony was one of the most beautiful ever seen in this city. When the nuptials were completed and the company had heartily congratulated the happy pair, all present sat down to an elegant breakfast prepared by Mr. George Shurtliff. The presents were very costly and elegant and of course, large in number. Those who were present to join in the festivities of the hour, were Dr. and Mrs. Conover, Anson Rogers, Miss Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lappin, Miss Lappin, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. F. Carpenter, Mr. Chas. H. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Fethers, Mr. Edward M. Fethers, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. F. McKee, Miss Worm, of Whitewater, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McKimney, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tallman, Mr. G. C. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Winans, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Foote, Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Barrows, Miss Peterson, Mr. L. F. Holloway, Mr. J. B. Doe, Mr. J. B. Doe, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rich, Mr. and Mrs. George Searchell, Thos. T. Croft, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Banous, Edward M. Hyzer, Mr. and Mrs. David J. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Valentine.

There are large numbers of people in Janesville who will most heartily wish Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths many years of health, happiness and prosperity. Both are well known in this city, and have been for years. The bride is an accomplished young lady with a wide circle of warm friends, and the groom for many years has occupied a prominent and highly honorable position among business men. Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths started on the 12:20 train for St. Louis, where they will visit some time before returning to this city.

Frontie & Evenson wish it known that they guarantee Acker's system. That lots to be made for indigestion over used, they always relieve headache.

HOUSE CLEANING.

The first time to begin, with some suggestive hints as to when the job should be set alone.

Among the pleasant experiences of life, and surpassing all other amusements of the year, is the last relic of spring, under the high sounding title of "house cleaning." Every season of the year is marked by some epoch which distinguishes it as the opening of a new era; but the climax of a family's possibilities, is only reached when the head of the household, attired in linen duster and straw hat, attaches himself to one end of a well worn carpet, on the windward side, while the good wife with an apron on her head, unimpeded in a last years Monday morning toilet, gently manipulates the other end of the two ply tapestry.

Some people abandon the good old fashioned method of shaking a carpet, and suspend it from a clothes line in the back yard, and then beat it unmercifully by the hour. The only advantage that the last named system possesses is that it affords the lady of the house an opportunity to sit on the back porch and engineer the work. A good carpet will endure a good deal of clothes line exercise and many a poor man has found an opportunity by listening to the persuasive voice of his wife as she cheered him on to renewed exertions.

Did you ever notice that the month of May with all its glad spring-time associations, is the one month of the whole year when the harvest of divorces is most abundant? And did it ever occur to you, that out of the dust of the old carpet, spring the seeds which take root and develop so rapidly. There are several families over in the first ward now who are hanging on the ragged edge of a total eclipse, as the result of too much familiarity with the family carpet. These are aggravated cases, where the house-cleaning was commenced the middle of March, and has been in active service ever since. Cases, where the coal stove was taken down and packed away for the summer, before the snow had disappeared, and where the kitchen fire, and gasbush, have vied with each other in supplying a limited amount of heat. Under these genial influences the monarch of the domicile has gone about the streets, when not confined to the bed, with a red flannel bandage around his neck and carrying a variegated bandanna in his right hand for the accommodation of his usual organ, which seemed to require a good deal of attention, while his better half has remained at home to practice squeezing without the aid of snuff.

The time to clean house is on the 15th day of May. The sessions should be biennial and noted for a good deal of business in a very brief space of time. Late is too short to squander in a tireless round of house cleaning. A short seige now and then affords a pleasant recreation, but morning and afternoon mania for six or eight weeks becomes monotonous. In the language of the poet,

"Man wants but little here below.

Not waste that little long."

With women the case is quite different, she would be willing to possess the whole earth most of the time, if she could devote three months of the year to polishing it up, with the man she promised to love and obey as his assistant.

You will find all medicines advertised in this paper at Frontie & Evenson's, except postoffice Janesville medicines, which are liquid sent by mail. Prescriptions and receipts prepared from pure and fresh drugs cheaper than at any other reliable druggist in the country.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 39 degrees above zero. Cloudy, with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 37 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with north wind.

Milton.

"Barred offering" season is upon us and for the next month a person will have to go out of town a mile or two to get a breath of clean air. We favor a law that would keep the offal piles or set apart a day for bonfires.

—A. S. Dunham, who has been employed by both Dr. Borden and P. M. Green in their lumber yards for several years, has resigned his position. We congratulate his employers on securing his services and can assure them that they will find him a careful, competent man. He has our best wishes for future health and prosperity. His family will remain here for the present.

—F. E. Osborn left town last week on a tour through Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas and Dakota. He will spend the summer in the above mentioned states, securing a large number of returns to Wisconsin to spend the winter.

—I. A. Sawie has come here to spend the summer. His health has compelled him to resign his position on the C. & N. W. railway and he will try to regain his health on the present.

—J. E. Miller arrived here on Friday morning at ten o'clock. He is a native of Iowa, and is now in the city on a visit to his sister, who is sick, was given a dose of liniment instead of her proper medicine, and feeling fatal, recalls Anthony drove a lumber yard to expect to accept of his services. Fortunately the liniment contained nothing very dangerous.

—Deacon Essee is erecting a barn on the premises where he lives.

—Mr. L. B. Clark has taken the position of Green's lumber yard vacated by Mr. Dunham. He is well known here and has the ability and energy to make a success in his new calling.

—Mrs. Clara M. Humphrey has a large class in elocution the present term and also a number of private pupils.

—"Synire" Stannard tied his first matrimonial knot last Friday evening, the parties being Gus. Bane and Miss Minnie Barnhart. The court set up the oranges on the corner.

—Miss Abigail Langworthy died Saturday morning after a brief illness, the cause of her death being dropsy. The funeral took place at the house Saturday afternoon and the burial in the village cemetery.

—The contract for graveling highways in this part of the town the present year has been let to E. Goodrich by the supervisors, except a portion of the contract let last year to R. D. Burdick, deceased, which will be finished by his sons.

—J. B. Anderson intends to rebuild and improve his elevator this summer, prior to the fall business.

—E. H. Burdick is making some changes in his front yard that will save him a great deal of expense, but no one can, at the present writing, imagine what he intends to have.

—Goodrich is at work on the foundation for his new building, and R. Richardson is having the cellar dug for his new house.

—It is rumored that Superintendent Campbell is to again have charge of this division of the St. Paul railway.

Gas Williams.

This popular German dialect comedian, will appear at Myers opera house on Thursday evening, as Captain Miesler, in a play bearing that title. Mr. Williams has made a great success in Captain Miesler in all the eastern theaters, and is spoken of by the press and public in the very highest terms. The Cincinnati Enquirer speaks of Williams, and his play, as follows:—

Yesterday afternoon the initial performance in Cincinnati of "Captain Miesler" by Gas Williams, was witnessed by a large and well pleased audience, and in the evening the house was crowded. Those present were at times convulsed with laughter and to the fact that Captain Miesler is a German police officer, and the captain of a district in New York City. The district contains, among other attractions, a race course, and is prolific of the liveliest and most amusing incidents of metropolitan life. "Capt. Miesler" is a man in all the stirring scenes of the district, and while he is laboring assiduously to bring everything out right, he continually finds himself entangled in the most ludicrous and laughable situations. Principal among Mr. Williams' support is Miss Angie Griffiths, a beautiful young lady and careful actress, who sustains her part of the injured wife of the polished villain of the play in a manner to stir even the admiration of the audience. She evidences an interest in her work that is pleasing and effective to a high degree, and she brings to the task she assumes a grace and dignity that instantly assert themselves, and produce an impression that cannot fail to prove lasting. Miss Isabel Waldron was excellent, as she always is. Miss Gabrielle Macken, as "Violet Pillsbury," the old maid, was extremely funny, and made everybody within sight laugh all the time she was on the stage. Gas Williams is as bright and entertaining as ever in his songs and odd sayings, pronounced so quaintly as to be irresistible. There is a child in the play who is simply charming. The other characters, especially the "Budd Brillo" of Delous King, were well sustained, and a week of pleasure is in store for the patrons of Heuleke. "Captain Miesler" is a masterpiece of play, every way than any that Mr. Williams has ever presented here, and we are confident that this drama will bring him both fame and fortune.

VISITING A NAVY YARD.

The Naval Secretary Goes to Brooklyn—Official Chicago—Cleveland—Boston—New York, April 25.—Secretary Whitney visited the Brooklyn navy yard Monday afternoon for the first time, notwithstanding the reports that he was there Saturday. He was conveyed from the North River pier at twenty-third street, this city, in a tug sent from the yard for that purpose. Several bands of barons accompanied him, and all the officers had been ordered out by Commander Chandler.

Three important removals were made Monday, and fifty mechanics were dismissed on Saturday. As these changes occurred before the actual appearance of the secretary at the yard, it is not known that they were due to his visit. The reason given for the discharge of the mechanics was that the secretary was not to be present. The men are Charles Frazer, chief clerk of the equipment department; Receiving Clerk Spoor, and "boss" rigger John Peters. Frazer held his position fourteen years. His conduct of his department was criticised several months ago, and an investigation was ordered. The result has never been made public, but Frazer went to Europe and was absent four months. On returning he was re-elected in his position.

Secretary Whitney was the guest of Commander Chandler all the afternoon. He will next look through the departments of the yard. Commander Chandler was asked what the object of the secretary's visit was. "To move around to Boston," was the reply. "Anything else?"

"Yes. He proposes to take it Newport for the summer."

Frontie & Evenson distinctly state that Acker's English remedy, has and does cure contracted consumption. Ask for circular. An entirely new medicine, guaranteed.
